1. Introduction

The course aims to introduce the study of family violence and its implications on society. The course will cover the dynamics of family violence, its causes, and its effects on society.

2. Course Objectives

- The course will introduce the students to the terms and concepts related to family violence.
- The course will provide a theoretical background of family violence and its impact on society.
- The course will examine the characteristics of different types of family violence.
- The course will focus on the role of family violence in promoting gender inequality.

3. Study Methods

- The course will include seminars, group discussions, and case studies.
- The students will have the opportunity to present their research findings and share their experiences with other students.

4. Course Requirements

- Attendance at all lectures and seminars.
- Participation in all discussions and activities.
- Submission of a final written examination (100%).
- Attendance at all lectures and seminars.

5. Course Literature

