Submissions are invited for the 2nd Ariel Conference on the Political Economy of Public Policy, to take place on September 9-11, 2019 at Ariel University, Israel.

The conference is hosted by the Department of Economics and Business Administration. The objective of the conference is to bring together researchers interested in how political calculations interact with public policy decisions.

Conference papers will be evaluated for publication in a special issue of the European Journal of Political Economy. For the special issue based on the 1st Ariel Conference, see https://www.sciencedirect.com/journal/european-journal-of-political-economy/vol/54.

The conference schedule includes visits to historic sites. Local expenses of participants will be covered (accommodation, meals, domestic transportation). Authors of accepted papers who do not have research funds to cover airfares can request a travel subsidy.

Papers can be theoretical, empirical, and experimental. Papers need not be entirely complete at the time of submission for the conference.

Participants without papers who wish to act as discussants are welcome to attend.

Key dates:
Paper proposals until July 1, 2019
Submission of complete papers until August 26, 2019

Send proposals and papers to the members of the program committee.
